

ANIMAL ORIGIN STATEMENT

Microbiologics, Inc. only purchases raw materials from approved suppliers. When a production component contains an animal by-product, a Lot Specific Certificate of Analysis or Certificate of Origin is required from the supplier. The Certificate of Analysis or Certificate of Origin must meet Microbiologics' component specifications. The certificate must include the animal species and the country of origin. In order for the component to be used for the production of microorganisms, each certificate is reviewed to ensure the component meets acceptance criteria. Microbiologics only accepts animal origin materials from countries listed in points A and B of the Annex of the Commission Decision of 29 June 2007 (2007/453/EC).

All of Microbiologics' products conform with Article 5 of EC 1069/2009 as they have reached the end point in the manufacturing chain and are no longer subject to the requirements of EC 1069/2009. The products are considered derived products per Article 36 of EC 1069/2009 and do not pose any significant risk to public or animal health.

For your convenience, Microbiologics will provide a Lot Specific Certificate of Animal Origin upon request. Please email techsupport@microbiologics.com or call 320.253.1640 to request this information.

Regards,

Tina Sobania
Sr. Quality Systems Manager
Management Representative
Microbiologics, Inc.